

SINGULAR SENSATIONS

Off-the-beaten-path Providence shop Source showcases a mélange of unique finds. BY ANNE VICKMAN

"Weird things find their way to me," says Lisa Foster, an interior architect and owner of the design firm Reconstructure. Foster has always had a passion for decorating spaces with one-off acquisitions from estate sales and auctions. After amassing enough treasures to fill a store, she did just that last winter, carving out a retail space, Source, in her design studio. "The aesthetic is certainly funky and definitely eclectic," Foster says. "It ranges from fussy and whimsical to contemporary to just plain interesting. I like good design, period." SOURCE, 96 CALVERLEY ST., PROVIDENCE, RI, 401-383-1311, SOURCEATRECONSTRUCTURE.COM.

1 MOST VERSATILE

These bud vases ($80 for three) look great in all seasons.

2 HISTORICAL VALUE

Foster bought a pair of Gothic Revival-style church windows ($1,200 each) at auction.

3 OWNER'S FAVE

"This is one of those things I love and wear all the time," says Foster of Margo Morrison's beaded necklaces ($435-$995 for a 53-inch piece).

4 EDITOR'S PICK

Foster reupholstered this chair ($1,250) in a bold cotton fabric.

5 GRAPHIC APPEAL

A patterned Jonathan Adler vase ($110) adds a pop of color to any space.

6 BEST INVESTMENT

The Cary buffet from Shine by S.H.O ($2,600) is funky and practical.
